2011 NC13 Congressional Art Competition

Congressman Brad Miller Announces Winner of Congressional Art Contest

Raleigh, NC – Congressman Brad Miller (NC-13) congratulated Parker Stewart, a student at Greensboro Day School in Greensboro, as the 13th District First Place Winner of the annual Congressional Art Contest at a special awards ceremony this week-end.

Rep. Brad Miller, first-place winner Parker Stewart and his art teacher, Cary Jackson-Adams.

Stewart received his award at the Congressional Art Contest Show and Reception on Saturday, May 7th at the North Carolina Museum of Art. He was awarded a $1500 scholarship from a prestigious collegiate art and design school, a $500 US Savings Bond and complimentary framing of his artwork. He and a parent will also be flown to Washington DC where he will participate in a Ribbon Cutting at the National Congressional Art Competition event, where his work will hang for year Cannon Pedestrian Tunnel to the US Capitol and be viewed by thousands as part of a special show.

"Art exemplifies the freedoms of our country; we often take for granted the gift we have to express our views and opinions. I support art education as a key component to a well rounded education. " said Rep. Miller.

Second through fourth place winners are listed below. Judge's Special Merit and Honorable Mention awards can be found here.

Winner's Information:

FIRST PLACE

Title: Digitally Digitally of the Performing and Visual Arts, Greensboro

Cary

Sandy Shaw, Cary