The Congressional Research Service provides extensive resources designed to help local governments, places of worship and non-profit organizations understand how to apply for, and receive, competitive grants awarded by federal agencies. Click here .

Links to other helpful Grant websites